Fig. 2. Index Page (List of All Notes)

The image shows a web application window titled "ShareNotes". Inside, there is a form titled "Upload Note". The form contains four input fields: "Title", "Subject", "Description", and "Notes". The "Notes" field is a larger text area. At the bottom of the form, there are two buttons: "SAVE" (green) and "CANCEL" (red).

Fig. 3. Create New Note Form (Empty)

The image shows the same "ShareNotes" window, but the "Upload Note" form is now filled with sample data. The "Title" field contains "Architecture and Organization Notes". The "Subject" field contains "Architecture and Organization". The "Description" field contains "Notes for Architecture and Organization". The "Notes" field contains a list of headings (1. Heading 1, 2. Heading 2, 3. Heading 3), a list of subheadings (- Heading 1, - Subheading 1, - Subheading 2), a bold heading (- Heading), and a subheading (- Subheading 1). The "Notes" field also contains the text "Hello World". There are green checkmark icons next to the "Description" and "Notes" fields. The "SAVE" and "CANCEL" buttons are still at the bottom.
